bureau meeting and Omer Trusler led the crowd in community singing. Music by the Boosters quartet and a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. C. E. Walden, Mrs. Edith Ashworth, O. P. Wamsley and O. R. Zimmer was immensely appreciated and given a big ovation. Solos by Mrs. Walden also won a very hearty response from the audience, as they have at all of the township meetings where she has sung.
An added musical number last night was a duet by Miss Ramona Norris of this city and Mrs. Ruby Norris Frasier of Des Moines, Iowa, who is visiting here. Mrs. Gibson Wilson of Rushville gave a group of readings that pleased the crowd very much. The negro dialect numbers were particularly popular.

paign throughout the state, delivering 351 political speeches in ten weeks.
As a candidate for the senate, he conducted a great state wide educational campaign for Americanism in clear, forceful, vigorous, interesting discussions of present-day issues and problems.
Dr. Ganfield was at one time chairman of the educational committee of Kentucky which made a survey of all the schools of the state. He served, by appointment of the same governor, on the state board of control for reorganization of all penal and charitable institutions of the state.

CHARGED WITH PROVOKE
Alexander Innis, living south of Rushville, was brought into Justice Steeh's court this afternoon on a warrant charging him with provoke. The charge was preferred by Merle Thomas. The defendant was granted time in which to consider entering a plea, and was to appear later this afternoon for that purpose.

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—

Saying Goodbye:— Finally,
Brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you. 2 Cor. 13:11.

Prayer:—We glory as believers, O God, in the privilege of daring with Thy help to seek the impossible, and be perfect as Thou art perfect.

Putting an End to War

Twenty-six prominent peace advocates have united upon a proposal to be submitted to the senate in December, which calls for the immediate entrance of the United States into the Permanent Court of International Justice on the basis of the Harding-Hughes-Coulidge reservations.

The proposal includes the understanding that if the nations of Europe, within a specified time, do not call an international conference for the purpose of negotiating a general treaty outlawing war as a crime under the law of nations, the United States may in its discretion withdraw its adherence to the court.

What attitude the senate will take towards the proposal, it is not now possible to forecast, but it is not reasonable to expect that anything concrete will come out of the suggestion, no matter how practical it may seem.

Every sensible person realizes that disputes between nations should be adjudicated just as misunderstandings among individuals in court are settled. There is no more reason for nations slaughtering each other than there is for men to fight a duel to death to settle an argument.

On the one hand, the individual who fails to go to court to settle his dispute but "takes the law into his own hands," is punished for the crime. Nations, however, may go to war and cause endless suffering and misery and still go scot free.

They deserve punishment just as do men who violate the law. There is international law, but no means of enforcement. How long will it take men to see their folly and raise

SICK WOMEN ATTENTION!

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia.—"If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you.
Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try
it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up to never get well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drugstore and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me.
I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow.
My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the Hospital and was operated on.
That was when I gave the doctors up.
Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is. I will be only too glad to answer letters from anywhere. I wish all sick women would take it."—Mrs. J. A. JONES, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

up the same standard for nations

Progress and Schools

Every patron of the public school system owes an obligation to that system. If improvement in the schools is not keeping pace with progress in industry, in farm machinery, in general transportation, including roads, type of vehicles, and the like, there is something wanting in the school system we may be sure.

Even though it may not be possible to set forth on paper measurable and tangible progress year by year, improvement must proceed continuously and school officials and patrons will be wise to form the habit of looking backward over a period of five or ten years to assure themselves that improvement in school administration and practice parallels that in other fields.

A bulletin issued by the County Board of Education of Wilson County, North Carolina, represents a fine piece of educational publicity.
It is an account of progress from the school officials to the school patrons. It shows in pictures and in other ways the changes that have taken place in the schools of the county during the ten year period.
Among other accomplishments the number of schools has been reduced from 57 to 17; school attendance has increased 64 percent; while the investment in school property is nearly twenty times as great as in 1914. One-fifth of the children are transported to school in auto trucks and seventeen handsome buildings replace the "shacks" of former days.

It is apparent that progress of this kind representing improvement in roads, in school organization, in appearance and adaptability of school buildings, can not be effectively exhibited in an annual report. If however, a five or ten year period passes and no progress is noticeable interested citizens have reason to think that there is something wrong with their school system. Lack of development, inertia, is as serious in school systems as in business or industry. School officials and patrons should hold themselves responsible for reasonable and continuing improvement.

FIFTEEN YEARS

From Daily Republican
Saturday July 16, 1910

The Casady and Kennedy dry goods store was opened for business this morning. They are located at the old Winslip stand in Main street, having purchased the business from John Winslip, who was in business there for thirty years.

Claude Simpson, editor of the Daily Republican, will leave Wednesday for Roswell, New Mexico, for the benefit of his health. He has been suffering with a slight illness for the past four months and has been unable to attend to all of his duties during that time. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simpson, parents of Mr.
Simpson, will accompany him to New Mexico and will remain for a few weeks.

The kids all have the alarm clocks set for four o'clock in the morning.
For the biggest event of their life will take place then, when the Hag-on-back-Wallace shows will unload at the Big Four station.

Tennie Winkler, who has been dangerously ill for some time, is now out again and able to look after business. (Arlington correspondent)

Miss Frances Neutzenholzer returned today from Greenfield, where she has been for the past week the guest of Miss June Frye.

Mrs. Gunn Hayden of San Angeles, Texas, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Wilson in North Main street.

Will Doyle of Connersville, distributor of the Lexington touring car, was in this city today demonstrating.

Arthur Waltz of Chicago will spend Sunday with Miss Hazel Wicker at her home west of the city.

Miss Marjorie Bruen of Denver, who has been the guest of Miss Louise Manzy in North Harrison street, left today for Bloomington, Ill., and other points before returning to her home.

Ben Oster left this afternoon for a ten days' visit with relatives in Colorado. He will be the guest of his parents at Denver and will also spend a few days at Glenwood Springs with his brother, who owns a large ranch.

Earl Robertson has resigned his position as soloist at the Star Grand theatre and Leon Maxey has accepted the same position.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON:—Earthquakes aren't hard to foretell. A bit of study's necessary. that's all.

Predictions can't be quite as accurate as the weather bureau's, perhaps. That is, they can't be pinned down to specific dates.

However, they usually can be made within a matter of months.
They can be made, too, a good deal farther in advance than weather predictions can.

THIS is the testimony of experts like the hydrographic office's, the coast and geodetic survey's, the bureau of standards and the Smithsonian and Carnegie Institutions. These scientists do no wild guessing, make no forecasts on the strength of anything but information they have excellent reason to consider reliable.

SEISMOLOGY'S progress has been very rapid recently, owing to perfection of the sonic depth finder by Dr. Harvey C.
Hayes of the naval research laboratory, New Washington.

Previously deep sea sounding had been such slow work that scientists couldn't keep up with changes in ocean depths. With Dr.
Hayes' device it is done as rapidly as a fast ship can steam, so that a day-by-day record is possible, if desired.

THAT'S just what science does require—maybe not literally day-by-day, but frequently to know of coming quakes. Earth shifts which presage big shake-ups occur pretty rapidly, once they start.

We think of geological changes as taking ages and no doubt the processes responsible for them are very slow, but when the time comes for a readjustment nature works fast.

Indeed, the quakes themselves testify to this theory's correctness they certainly are abrupt enough.

HOWEVER, there are advance warnings. A ship equipped with the Hayes sounding device charts the ocean floor in the Atlantic, say, and off Santa Barbara.

The following spring she takes fresh soundings and finds deeper water in some places than before.
The best guess is that a submarine fault has slipped.

Something like a rubber ball, the earth, pressed down in one spot, tends to rise somewhere else.
It's up to the investigators, having discovered a point where a downward pressure evidently is being exerted, to determine where the corresponding upward lift is to be expected.

By following the line of the fault, this isn't difficult to do—and quite exactly.

EVOLUTION TRIAL GETS INTO ANOTHER CRISIS

Attorneys Squabble Over Question of Admissibility of Scientific Evidence

JURY NOT ALLOWED TO HEAR

(By United Press)

Dayton, Tenn., July 16—The Tennessee evolution case launched into another of its crises today when the session opened.

Attorneys immediately began argument on the question of the admissibility of scientific evidence designed to prove there is no conflict between the bible and the theory of evolution.

This evidence was offered by the defense yesterday when it called its first witness—Prof. Maynard Metcalfe of Oberlin college—but thus far none of it has reached the jury.
Metcalfe was allowed to give the court an outline of the theory of evolution, but the jury was excluded and state attorneys interposed their objections to this line of evidence.

Arguments today were on state objection.

Upon Judge Raulston's ruling depends whether the testimony of noted scientists and educators will be presented to the Scopes jury.

"THRILL SLAYER" MAY BE HIDING IN INDIANA

Man Answering Description of Philip Knapp Trained from Lima, O., to Portland, Ind.

ALL TRACE OF HIM IS LOST

(By United Press)

Lima, Ohio, July 16—Philip Knapp, sought throughout the east for the slaying of Louis Panella at Mincola, N. Y., was reported sighted near here during the night and escaped early today near Portland, Ind., after a chase by three Lima policemen, the local representative of a national detective bureau and a dozen newspaper men.

Police said they were certain of the identification. Knapp applied at the Lima licensing bureau for a certificate to operate a stand on the streets selling cards. He came to town in a Ford truck with a Prairie schooler body and told Miss Ruth Keating at the license bureau he was a disabled war veteran.

Miss Keating promptly notified police that she believed the man to be the New York "thrill slayer." She then referred Knapp to the police department, telling him this was the custom.

When he left for the police station, the man told Miss Keating he was going direct to the police department but he never showed up.

Inquiries revealed that he had visited a garage but police arrived there a few minutes after he had left for Indiana.

No Trace of Man in Portland

Portland, Ind., July 16—Police of Portland today failed to find the trail of Philip Knapp, who was reported to have escaped near here after a pursuit by officers from Lima, O.

All roads were being watched for Knapp, wanted in Mincola, N. Y., for the slaying of a taxicab driver.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Dave Banoff, manager of the Braves, tripped in the third inning and drove in two runs, beating the Pirates, 4 to 3. The Giants pulled up within five runs of the Pirates by beating the Cardinals, 7 to 3.

The Athletics regained first place in the American League when they won a double-header from the White Sox at 9-7 and 11-5.

With two doubles and a single in three times up, Ty Cobb led the attack that gave the Tigers a 5 to 2 victory over the Senators.

Ken Williams hit his 22nd homer but it was not needed as the Browns romped away from the Red Sox 11 to 3.

Burleigh Grimes returned to good form and pitched the Robins to a 5 to 2 victory over the Reds.

Alexander doubled in the second inning with the bases filled and turned in three runs that helped the Cubs beat the Phillies, 8 to 3.

The Yankees and Cleveland Indians divided a double header, Cleveland winning the first, 5 to 4 in 12 innings and the Yankees capturing the second battle, 9 to 4.

SPORT CHATTER

Sterling, Ill.—The Sterling Browns, a team of negro baseball stars, challenged the ball club of the Sterling K. K. K. to play a feature game as part of a two day Klan celebration here July 31 and August 1.

Kewanee, Ill.—William G. Eaton, widely known as a horseman, died at his home here from heart trouble.

New York—Hugh McQuillan, one of the regular pitchers for the New York Giants, has a lame arm and may not be able to work again this season. He is taking medical treatment and has been ordered to give the arm a complete rest.

New York—Reports contained in a Swedish magazine that Charley Paddock and Loren Murichson, star American sprinter, had made exorbitant financial demands to appear in a track meet in Stockholm were referred by the A. A. U. to William C. Prout, Boston, chairman of the union's foreign relations committee. Officials here think the charges here are exaggerated.

Yale Star Turns "Tutor"

Two Out of First Six for U. S.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 16—American entries did only fairly well in the early season international skirmishes. Two victories in six major competitions were the best the United States could get and those two victories were of the synthetic variety.

The United States scored when Jim Barnes won the British open golf championship and when the United States Army team defeated the British team for the international military cup.

Barnes, however, is a native of England, even if he is a citizen of the United States, and that removed some of the wind from the cheers and the Army polo team was badly beaten by the Indian team of the Maharajah of Jodhpur.

The Americans did fairly well in the Wimbledon tennis championships and the real purpose of sending the two youngsters to try for the British title was achieved in that they gained valuable experience. That does not count on the score card, however.

Miss Glenna Collett also scored a personal triumph in the British woman's golf championship, but Miss Joyce Wethered won the championship and the victor has to be credited to England. Miss Collett, however, won the French golf championship.

The American entries did not distinguish themselves in the British amateur golf championships, but our best players were not entered as no formidable raid was arranged by the golf association.

The big honors in rowing also went to England when Jack Beresford, the British star, won the classic Diamond Sculls after he had beaten Walter Hoover, the American, in the semi-final heat of the trials.

Beresford's victory was somewhat of a surprise as Hoover had been made the favorite by the British experts although Beresford is a very fine oarsman.

At the end of the season the score may be more favorable as the United States teams are almost certain to win the Wightman (tennis) cup and the classic Davis Cup, and the amateur golf championship is not likely to be taken away by any English players.

SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED

Mrs. John P. Frazee, Jr., was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club at her home in West Fifth street. A dainty collation was served following the card games.

The Industrial Club enjoyed an all day meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sanford Moore in East Tenth street, with fifteen members and eleven guests present. A bountiful picnic dinner was served at the noon hour and the afternoon was spent in piecing quilt tops. The ladies also made plans for work for the next year.

The Community Choir will hold a rehearsal Friday evening promptly at eight o'clock at the First Baptist church, at which time they will practice songs for the union meetings at the coliseum Sunday evening. Special numbers to be on the program at that time will be a solo by Mrs. C. E. Walden and a selection by the Dean trio.

Miss Stella Irvine and Mrs. Willis Roman gave a miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher who were recently married. Pink and white was the color scheme used in the decorations and the refreshments of ice cream and cake, served after the party. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the couple.

The Samanab Club, which is a club of girls who were former pupils of the Graham high school, held a reunion Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson in North Harrison street. A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed and the remainder of the evening was spent with music. Among the guests present was Mrs. Bernard Benson of Bayfield, Wis., formerly Miss Gertrude Wilkinson.

The Four H Sewing club of Center met at the school house Wednesday, July 8. Twenty-three members were present and about two hours were spent on the club work. A few songs were sung and yells were given, led by Frances Benner. Following the reading of the minutes and roll call, many plans for July and August were discussed. Mrs. Maud Oldham, Mrs. Clifford Brown and Miss Freda McManus were visitors. The club will have a market at Rushville, July 18, at Pitman and Wilson's Drug Store. The club will meet again Wednesday, July 22.

The First Presbyterian church and Sunday school will hold a picnic Thursday of next week at Memorial park during the afternoon and evening. All members of the Sunday school and church and families and friends are urged to be present. Everyone is to bring two articles of food, a few sandwiches and their own dishes, and have the food on the table ready to eat at 6:30 p. m. Children are to come to the park at four o'clock. There will be games and entertainment and fun for all. If it should be rainy, the picnic will be held in the coliseum regardless of the rain.

Mrs. Raymond Dickson and Mrs. James Dickson and daughters entertained with a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the former's home near Raleigh, in honor of Mrs. Robert Lamb of Richmond, a recent bride. Mrs. Lamb was formerly Marie Whitton, daughter of Bay Whitton of near Raleigh. The home was prettily decorated in the color scheme of pink and white. The evening was spent with contests and was enjoyed by about seventy-five guests. The bride received many pretty presents. The color scheme was carried out in the ices and cakes which were served at the close of the evening.

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Earl Gregory in North Oliver street. The meeting opened with the devotional period conducted by Mrs. Edgar Bates, followed by the scripture reading by Miss Elizabeth Stewart. Mrs. Clyde Nebro led in prayer and a business session, presided over by Mrs. Gilbert Palmer, followed. Mrs. Earl Heath had charge of the program. In the serving of delicious refreshments which marked the close of the meeting, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Earl Heath, Mrs. Frank Gardner, Mrs. Ambrose Gohring and Mrs. Clyde Heath.

Members of the Christian Endeavor Societies of the Presbyterian churches of this city, Franklin, Columbus and Shelbyville enjoyed their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at Flat Rock cave, south of Shelbyville. The Shelbyville society was in charge of the arrangements. At 6:30 o'clock a picnic supper was served and enjoyed by the seventy-five young people present, including twenty-three from the local. First Presbyterian church. During the afternoon a field meet was held which was followed by a swimming meet. The winner of each contest received as a reward a check to cover his expenses to the State Christian Endeavor Convention, which will be held at Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., the last of August. The Rev. R. J. McLandress of Indianapolis spoke to the young people on the conference at Hanover, urging them to attend.

MOVES TO NEW OFFICE ROOMS

Dr. R. O. Kennedy Completes Remodeling of Building he Purchased

Dr. R. O. Kennedy, local physician, has moved to his new office rooms, 118 West Third street, after having remodeled the building extensively. He purchased it from Dr. R. F. McClannahan, former dentist, who moved to Florida last month.

Dr. Kennedy has added a partition onto the back end of the building and he now has the latest equipment installed in the office, which is made up of five rooms and a hall.

He formerly occupied an office in the Odd Fellows building at the corner of Morgan and Third streets.

TOWN "TAKES SIDES" IN THE CONTROVERSY

and will fight the case before a jury. Squire Thompson, qualified as a jurist by fourteen years as a justice of the peace, will hear the case.

The front part of a barber shop is usually used by Squire Thompson as a court room but he has rented the band room of the Baptist church annex so there will be room for all the spectators Monday.

"We are looking for a big crowd Monday and have made plans to care for all who come," Squire Thompson said.

"They will come from miles around, you know, cause folks like to get their ears full of that kind of stuff. It sure has raised a stink. I guess it has been raised all over the country."

Eight men have already been picked for a jury and the remaining four will be drawn by Robert Parker, acting constable, when the case is called.

William Aldridge, father of one of the defendants, is "all riled up" by the suit.

"I'm sorry the whole thing happened," he said. "I think that old maid school teacher drug the other girls into the row."

Practically all of Waldron's four hundred inhabitants have taken sides in the controversy. Many women believe the boys should wear bathing suits so the girls could use the pool. Mrs. Elizabeth Cummins, 99, the oldest resident of the town, is not too feeble to have a word in the argument.

"If I had a daughter like that would hang her," she said indignantly.

MARKETING FIRM WAS MISLEADING

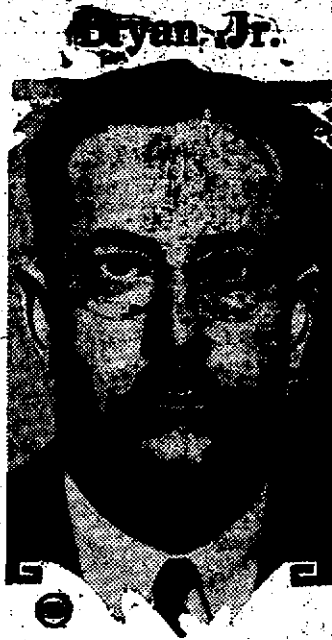

Defunct Grain Marketing Company
Had No Connection with Farmers' Co-operative Association

CAUSED FARMERS TO WORRY

Statement Issued Today States That Indiana Farm Bureau Fought the Other Concern

Indianapolis, Ind., July 16.—“The tendency of newspapers in many parts of the state and elsewhere to label the death of the Grain Marketing Company, of Chicago, as the death of a farmers' co-operative marketing association seems to have caused confusion in the minds of some Indiana farmers,” said a statement issued today by the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, over the signature of W. L. Stahl, editor of the Hoosier Farmer, official publication of the Federation. “Elevator men and warehouse men are reporting that many farmers are asking what effect the collapse of the Grain Marketing Company will have on the operations of the Indiana Wheat Pool, and what connection the Wheat Pool had with the Grain Marketing Company.”

“The Indiana Farm Bureau wishes to make it known as emphatically as possible that the failure of the Grain Marketing Company can have only one effect on the Indiana Wheat Pool, and true co-operative marketing in general, and that effect will be to strengthen the real grower-owned and grower-controlled co-operative associations. The In-

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., son of the famous old Democratic leader, is assisting his father in the prosecution of John T. Scopes at Dayton, Tenn. He is a bitter foe of evolution, and declared as he left Los Angeles, his home, that the country would go to ruin if it allowed evolution to be taught in its schools.

Indiana Farm Bureau fought the Grain Marketing Company from the beginning, not so much because it objected to a merger of old line elevators, but because it objected to this combination being labelled as a farmers' co-operative. The Indiana Farm Bureau pointed out from time to time that the Grain Marketing Company was improperly organized as a co-operative; it opposed the sale of Grain Marketing Company stock in Indiana on the ground that such sale of stock would be contrary to public policy in Indiana and that the elevator property involved in the merger was appraised at greatly in excess of its true value. The Indiana Securities Commission, on the strength of the showing made by the Indiana Farm Bureau, and as a result of its own investigations, barred the sale of Grain Marketing Company stock in Indiana.

“W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau, was perhaps the first man in the country publicly to voice opposition to the Grain Marketing Company, and all the resources of the Indiana Farm Bureau were thrown into the fight against the Grain Marketing Company. The collapse of the grain combination came as no surprise to the Indiana Farm Bureau, which from the first had regarded the failure of that combination as inevitable.

“The Indiana Wheat Pool is in a stronger position today than ever. Its membership is nearly three times as large as it was during the first year of its operations, and it will handle a volume of wheat this year proportionately larger. The failure of the Grain Marketing Company only proves the contentions of the Indiana Farm Bureau that farmers' co-operative marketing associations must be founded on grower ownership, and grower control, with long term, binding contracts, and with speculative elements eliminated. The Indiana Farm Bureau regarded the organization of the Grain Marketing Company, by men who long had opposed co-operative marketing by farmers, as an effort to check the rising tide of true co-operative marketing by farmers, and its rejoices that, in spite of nationwide propaganda and the enlisting of certain farm organization leaders in its support, it was able to deceive few farmers. In announcing that the collapse of the Grain Marketing Company was due to failure to persuade farmers to buy stock, the company merely admits what the Indiana Farm Bureau has said all along, viz., that the farmers of the country are not only alive to their own interests but able to protect those interests through their own organization.”

Mac Marsh at Princess

Motion picture patrons of England will very likely find in D. W. Griffith's new production, “The White Rose,” a more or less British effort in view of the fact that the two leading roles are essayed by Ivor Novello and Miss Mae Marsh. The latter has been working in English films for some time before returning to the Griffith banner.

Just before sailing from London to rejoin Mr. Griffith and appear in his new work, Miss Marsh had completed in England two pictures, “Paddy-the-Next-Best-Thing,” and another. Novello is well-known on the London stage, in English films and as a writer of songs and musical comedies.

Miss Marsh essays in “The White Rose,” a United Artists release booked for today at the Princess theatre, the role of an orphan girl and Novello will be seen as the son of a wealthy Southern family. Novello's characterization has to do with a youth who is sent into the ministry by his people and far away from the girl he loves.

Particular attention has been paid by Mr. Griffith to scenic or photographic settings for the episodes of this new work. He traveled all through the southern part of the United States to obtain proper atmosphere, specimens of architecture and tangled old estate gardens that are rare in other sections.

Girl Gained 7 Pounds Nine Years an Invalid

That's just what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for the Babcock Girl—and is doing as much for tens of thousands of thin, underweight, weak and discouraged people all over America.

These sugar coated, pleasant to take tablets should be given to children instead of the vile stomach upsetting oil itself—they surely do help the frail, delicate little ones and 60 tablets cost but 60 cents at Pittman and Wison or any real druggist anywhere in America.

Read this letter if you have a child that needs to gain health and strength.

“My little girl was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was 5 months old and was an invalid for 9 years—when I saw an ad in the paper that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets would build up wasted tissues, I bought a box and she gained very slowly at first and after taking eight boxes, she gained seven pounds. Thanks to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, after trying almost everything else on the market. She is on the road to recovery and goes to school every day.” Mrs. L. Babcock, Appleton, Wis.

Imitations of McCoy's may be offered but be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine and if after thirty days treatment you are not delighted with results—why, get your money back.

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 217

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

The time of the year has arrived that so many people hate to see because it means either leave home for northern points or pass through a siege of so called Hay Fever.

The only ones who suffer from this malady are those who have nasal passages that are inflamed and over-sensitive. This condition is due to a lack of nerve supply to the nasal membrane, caused by a pressure on the spinal nerve as it leaves the region of the neck.

The pollen from plants or other substance, so prevalent in the dust laden air of summer, coming in contact with the already inflamed nasal

COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF RUSH COUNTY FARM

The undersigned commissioners notify the public that, pursuant to the order of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Indiana, in the partition cause of Villora Buscher et al. vs. Charles W. Foust et al, No. 13398, they will, at the law office of Douglas Morris, in Miller Law Building, in the city of Rushville, Indiana, on SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1925, at one o'clock P. M. offer, at private sale, the Foust homestead, situated in Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana, and described as follows:

The south half of the south half of the east half of the northeast quarter of Section 36, Township 15 north, Range 8 east.

Also, all of the east half of the southeast quarter of Section 36, Township 15 north, Range 8 east, except 24 acres off of the entire south end thereof.

Also, beginning at the northwest corner of the east half of the southeast quarter of said section, township and range, thence west 8 rods and 11 feet; thence south 109 rods and 8 1/2 feet; thence east 8 rods and 11 feet; thence north to the place of beginning, containing 80 1/2 acres, more or less.

THE FARM

This place is located about two miles south of Carthage on the Carthage-Arlington road. The house has seven rooms, with summer kitchen. There is an excellent barn and customary outbuildings, and three wells. Here is one of the most fertile farms in Rush County, and on one of its best highways, over which a motor bus line operates between Rushville and Knightstown, and is close to the beautiful town of Carthage, with its unexcelled schools, churches, library and market facilities.

TERMS

One-third, cash; one-third in six months, remainder in twelve months; or purchaser has option of all cash; deferred payments evidenced by notes drawing 6 per cent interest and secured by first mortgage. Abstract furnished.

If not sold at said time, offer will be continued from day to day.

Exploded! The Idea That Car Luxury Means High Cost

All that is finest in motor car enjoyment—all that the heavy, cumbersome cars can give—the Chrysler Six affords.

More than that, it joins to these advantages the glorious performance and driving ease in which the Chrysler Six surpasses anything America has known.

It does all this at a low first cost—and low after-costs—which would enable you to buy and keep two Chrysler Six cars at approximately the cost of one of the heavier, older-fashioned vehicles which might compare with Chrysler in quality.

Space engineering makes the Chrysler Six a revelation in generous roominess. Its roadability and ease of riding are unsurpassed.

And Chrysler is unsurpassed, too, in that plain, old-fashioned, common-sense economy that enables you to do more with your money.

We're downright eager to have you put this car through its paces—with you at the wheel. Come in and try it.
